Know the benefits green efficiency brings your business?

Our planet's survival depends on how we care for the environment today. As a company we are proud of our ISO 14001 environmental certification and production facilities that work to the zero-waste principle. But even more importantly for you, all our office devices are environment-friendly, e.g. with recyclable components and energy-saving features to reduce power consumption. ENERGY STAR and Blue Angel awards are proof of their environmental friendliness. And that means a better carbon footprint for your business and money saved through lower electricity bills.

Keen to cut costs?

Ease of use, customisation, green efficiency, optimised document processes: what do all these benefits have in common? They save your staff time and effort, and your business money. To cut your document production and management costs all you have to do is invest in a DEVELOP device.

> ENERGY STAR

As part of an energy-saving programme for office equipment, products that meet specific standards can be registered as ENERGY STAR devices. In particular, the devices power down when not in use to save electricity. All new DEVELOP devices are ENERGY STAR-qualified.

> Blue Angel

Since 1978, the Blue Angel seal has been awarded to environment-friendly products. Blue Angel evaluates a product's energy consumption, noise emissions and recyclability. Since energy consumption is directly related to CO₂ emissions, a crucial greenhouse gas, Blue Angel devices are helping to reduce CO₂ emissions. DEVELOP has continued to receive certification for new products by clearing the certification bar each time it has been raised.
